

Greetings from B.PAC,

B.PAC's Civic HUB initiative has taken off in full swing this summer and we are pleased to update you on our latest initiatives and campaigns.

Visual pollution in the form of illegal bills and hoardings have been plaguing the city for years now and the menace is increasing day by day. Billboards are put up for the most trivial and ignorable reasons. Civic Hub participants conceptualised a unique campaign called 'KillBills' which was an effort to get rid of the unsightly bills and flyers that have been pasted on public walls and trees.

The B.CLIP Civic Hub participants brought citizens together in their respective wards. Nine wards across Bengaluru undertook the first such citywide drive against the persisting problem of illegal bills, posters and flyers that can be found on both public and private properties and even open spaces.

Several provisions under the Municipal Act, Karnataka Police Act, The Karnataka Open Places (Prevention of Disfigurement Act) have laws enabled to act against any such offenses. However, action on such blatant defacement of the city has been tardy.

Some dynamic officials from BBMP were working hard to get rid of this menace and improve revenue collections by closely monitoring hoardings to be put only on the space reserved for commercial advertisements and after making due payment.

HSR Layout led by Civic Hub leader Kavitha Reddy & Team

Civic Hub leader and Kavitha Reddy spearheaded the campaign. Kavitha's team consisted of citizens from all walks of life, from children to retired citizens; her ward saw a huge turnout.

What stood out was the fact that this particular group saw the participation of most number of individuals who displayed enthusiasm to make their city cleaner. The participation displayed speak for itself about the magnitude of impact it has borne on the locality.

Illegal posters have tarnished the beauty of the city and we aim to put an end to this mess, we know that it is a long process but we would like to take one step at a time was the message sent out by Kavitha and her team. Click here to watch a news report on #KillBills.

Sanjaynagar led by Subbaiah TS & Geetha G

Civic Hub leaders of Sanjaynagar ward 18 Subaiah and Geetha led the campaign kick started campaign at 7 AM, the cleanliness drive went on for about two hours. Several local residents lauded the team and gave them a helping hand.

"#KillBill will be carried out once by phases on a fortnightly basis so as to send a clear message that the citizens will not tolerate any kind of damages to public property" said Subbaiah.

Civic Hub leaders met the Special Commissioner (Solid Waste Management), Subodh Yadav, who went on to laud the efforts put by the team. He added that Sanjaynagar stood as a model for waste management. With segregation levels boosting up to 80% in the recent few days, the area has proved itself to be one among the cleanest in Bangalore.

Joining the meeting later was Kumar Naik, Commissioner of BBMP who hailed #KillBill initiative terming it as a very successful campaign. Local residents raised several points imperative to collection of garbage, waste segregation and management.

Gayathrinagar led by Kaveri Kedarnath & Team

Led by Civic Hub leader Kaveri Kedarnath, the drive here was a huge success. The citizens celebrated the fact that MLA Ashwath Narayan took part in a citizen-centric initiative voluntarily. MLA Ashwath Narayan showed immense support for #KillBill campaign in Malleshwaram and its surroundings. He also lauded Kaveri for taking the initiative to bring people together.

Kaveri was pleased to see immense involvement by the citizens of Malleshwaram and also acknowledged Narayan's support for the campaign describing it as a backbone to their campaign.

Sampangiramnagar led by Sufiyan & Team

Civic Hub leader M.D Sufiyan spearheaded the drive on Infantry road and several adjoining roads. The area was perpetually plagued by illegal posters. Special Commissioner Sarfaraz Khan joined Sufiyan and encouraged citizens to remove all the illegal posters.

Articles about the campaign were seen in the newspapers the next morning. Sarfaraz played an important role in establishing logistical support for many of the wards where #KillBill campaign had been initiated. He also urged the Civic Leaders lodge formal complaints with the BBMP against the offenders to take action.

Mahalakshmipuram led by Jayalakshmi & Team

Deputy Mayor Hemalatha kick-started the campaign in Mahalakshmipuram. Civic hub leader Jayalakshmi then took charge of the drive in ward no 68. She gathered a team consisting youngsters, house wives, and several other citizens of the ward. Jayalakshmi spearheaded a unique drive where several women used kitchen tools to remove the illegal posters that were stuck on walls and trees.

Noticing the group of women removing the bills, several passerby joined them and ensured that they did their bit to get rid of the mess. Special Commissioner Sarfaraz Khan also visited and inspected the ward. "People have ruined the beauty of the ward by sticking posters everywhere and even trees are covered with it. We will ensure that necessary action will be taken against the offenders" he said.

Other Citizen Groups Who Joined B.PAC's Initiative

Domlur:

Several other citizen groups such as Domlur Rising led by Shiv Kumar and 'I Change Indiranagar' led by Praveen joined the campaign in their respective areas.

Indiranagar:

Citizens of Indiranagar followed the Kill bills campaign online and decided to participate. A few good Samaritans gathered in the morning and decided to clean up 100 feet road and 80 feet road.

Bellandur:

Citizens of Bellandur stepped forward and did the same. They gathered around 8am and took to the streets. They removed illegal posters and banners and also called the special commissioner urging him to take action against the offenders.

Citizens across the city have shown interest to be part of the campaign. We shall do more such drives across the city and advocate sustainable measure to make our city free of visual pollution.

'Kill bills': HSR residents on mission

DC CORRESPONDENT
BENGALURU, APRIL 24

This once-pristine metropolis has been turned unattractive in recent times by the various ugly posters, banners, flexes, stickers and bills stuck on the walls all over the place. Motorists and pedestrians have got tired of looking at these eyesores everywhere.

In a heartening development recently, a group of citizens from HSR Layout embarked on a mission to remove these 'eyesores' and clean up the city. Their citizen's initiative has been imaginatively named 'Kill bills'.

Begun by Hasiru Mishra almost a month ago in HSR Layout, the movement has gained momentum across other parts of the city as well. Kavitha Reddy, a member of the group, said, "We were disturbed and upset to see the unsanitary, ugly posters in every nook and corner of the city. They were a definite eyesore and spoiling the city's beauty."

She continued, "In the span of one month we have conducted four drives. After identifying offending areas, we have removed a number of bills and posters during weekends. In fact people from areas like Jayanagar and Infantry Road got in touch with us and now they themselves are conducting such drives in their locality on their own."

When it comes to disfigurement of public property, there's a stringent law in place. This law strongly forbids defacing of public property. It's called the 'Karnataka Open Places (Prevention of Disfigurement) Act, 1981. Despite this law, nothing much has been done by the authorities. The High court too has time and again asked the BBMP and the police to fine film producers for pasting film posters on public walls and defacing the city and yet in spite of this the film posters still keep cropping up, to the disgust of onlookers. Although the Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) had launched many drives to remove unauthorised hoardings, flexes, posters, banners and bunnings, they failed to bring these under control.

BBMP says they have launched many night drives as well and have taken action against those who have put up the hoardings by filing criminal cases against them.

Fed-up citizens are hoping they make some headway so that their city looks beautiful again!

B PAC launches campaign against illegal hoardings, posters

BENGALURU, DHNS: To rid the city of visual pollution caused by illegal bills and hoardings, Bangalore Political Action Committee (B PAC) on Sunday launched a campaign called 'Kill bills'.

In a citizens' collective aiming to build a better Bengaluru, residents from nine wards across the city took part in the campaign in their respective wards and removed hundreds of illegal bills, flexes and posters. Civic hub leaders appointed at each ward spearheaded the campaign.

At HSR Layout, the drive started at 8.30 am and the team removed posters and illegal banners.

"Illegal posters have tarnished the beauty of the city and we aim to put an end to this. It is a long process but we would like to take one step at a time,"

said Kavitha Reddy, who headed the team.

At Sanjaynagar ward, civic hub leader Subhash T S led the campaign in which close to 200 banners and posters were removed.

A meeting was held between citizens and BBMP officials, including former palike commissioner Kumar Naik G and special commissioner for Solid Waste Management (SWM) Subodh Yadav, both residents of Sanjaynagar.

Both the officials said they will instruct ward engineers to submit an action-taken report on flex boards and hoardings collected during the drive on Sunday. "Most of the flex boards and flyers relate to PG centres, school admission and others. The SWM special commissioner and Naik said ward engineers will be told to call the contact numbers mentioned on hoardings and track the violators," said Subhash.

The other wards where the campaign took place are Radhakrishna Temple, Indiranagar, Malleswaram (Gayathrinagar ward), Sampangirammagar, Mahalakshminagar, Dombarur and Bellandur.

CEO, B.PAC, Reemthy Ashok, said, "Citizens across the city have shown interest in taking part in the campaign. We shall carry out more such drives across the city and advocate sustainable measures to make our city free of visual pollution."

They scraped city's walls clean of eyesore

Times News Network

Bengaluru: They are on a mission — to erase the many scars on Bengaluru's being. On Sunday, scores of civic leaders being groomed by B.PAC, a collective of eminent individuals from Bengaluru, accepted vast swathes of the city removing illegal bills, posters, banners and stickers from trees, pillars and utility poles.

The campaign, skilfully, was taken up by the B.PAC Civic Hub Initiative. It aims to support talented individuals wishing to assume the civic leadership mantle, the hub initiative aims to strengthen these individuals' engagement with civic issues at the ward level.

Armed with scrapers, cutters, knives, hammers and water sprays, volunteers of B.PAC Civic Hub, along with groups of locals and activists, started as early as 6 am in the morning. Accompanied by locals and interested individuals, they went about pulling down illegal posters and bills in Sanjaynagar, Basahakrishna, HSR Layout, Sampangirammagar, Prashanthnagar, Gayathrinagar, Jayanagar, Indiranagar, Mahalakshmi Layout and Dombarur. About 80% of the posters removed pertained to ads on paying guest accommodation. The rest were about kindergartens, home loans and political events/individuals. The scraped material was ferried to BBMP's dry waste collection centres in trucks.

Sanjaynagar hub leader Subhash T S and Geetha G said, "skilfully will be carried out in phases on a fortnightly basis. We want to send out a clear message that citizens won't tolerate any kind of damage to public property."

Kavitha Reddy, member of HSR Layout hub, said SMS were sent to locals asking them to keep an eye on defacesters. "Illegal posters tarnish the beauty of the city and we aim to put an end to this mess. We know it is a long process but we will take one step at a time," she added.

"Citizens have shown interest in the campaign. We shall conduct more such drives across the city and advocate sustainable measures to make our city free of visual pollution," said Reemthy Ashok, CEO, B.PAC.
